EXPLOSION KILLS SEVENTEEN MEN

Terrible Accident Occurs in a Pennsylvania Mine.

SIXTEEN MEN ARE INJURED

With the Exception of One, All Those Who Perished Were Foreigners, While the Majority of the Injured Are Americans—Mine in Which Catastrophe Occurred Had Been Free From Gas for Six Years.

Wehrum, Pa., June 24.—As the result of an explosion of gas in mine No. 4 of the Lackawanna Coal and Coke company, seventeen miners were killed and sixteen injured. With the exception of one, those killed were foreigners. With few exceptions those injured were Americans.

Twelve of the more seriously injured were taken to Spangler hospital. It was stated all would probably recover.

Inspector Joseph Williams of Altoona with a party entered the mine shortly for the purpose of ascertaining whether any one was yet entombed.

Superintendent A. M. Johnson stated that while the mine has always been regarded as non-gaseous, the explosion was due to the ignition of a pocket of gas by the open lamp of a miner.

"The mine has been free from gas for the past six years," said the superintendent, "and the state inspectors have permitted the use of open lamps. With seventeen dead and sixteen injured, I am of the opinion that everyone has been accounted for."

The mine has only been operating two days each week. Those in the mine had entered the shaft for their daily allowance of coal for family use.

Grouped about the slope entrance of the mine just before the explosion were several Italians.

When the terrific upheaval of rock and deadly gas spouted skyward these Italians were caught. Terribly burned and maimed they rushed about the settlement crying for aid. The cries and sound of hissing mine gas at the entrance of the mine brought the entire town to the scene.

Held Back Frantic Women.

Superintendent Johnson, backed by the force of the company, stood at the mine entrance and held back the frantic women whose relatives were entombed.

The first man to reach the surface was A. L. Johnson, son of the superintendent. Young Johnson had been in a lower heading. There were burns on his arms, body and neck, and it is stated he had inhaled flames.

Following came two Italians, their faces burned to a crisp. Superintendent Johnson called for volunteers to enter the mine. In the volunteer ranks stood several women. These were ordered back. With wet handkerchiefs tied over their faces, the first squad of the relief party started down the shaft. Of the eight who started, four came back with their senses. The others, overcome with black-damp, were pulled to the surface with ropes.

A second and a third party entered, only to be driven back by the deadly gas.

Oxygen sent by the Cambria steel works aided the searchers and with safety helmets a fourth rescue party succeeded in bringing twelve bodies to the surface. Later five more bodies were recovered. They were found huddled together in the lower left heading where they died in an evident effort to reach the main shaft.

In twos and threes the injured were found and lifted to the mouth of the mine and there hastily taken to the temporary hospital established in the company store. They were later removed to the Spangler hospital.

RACING AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY

Suburban Handicap Feature of Opening Day.

New York, June 24.—The feature of the race meeting at Sheepshead Bay is, as usual, the Suburban handicap, the oldest and most famous of the great spring handicaps, which will be run today. Its value has been greatly reduced owing to the adverse legislation. It has, however, a guaranteed value of $5,000. All the other conditions of the race remain as they have been since the establishment of the race twenty-six years ago.

The twenty-sixth Suburban will be contested by three-year-olds and upward, the winner to receive $4,000, the second horse $700, and $300 goes to third place. The distance is a mile and a quarter.

Officers Make Fatal Mistake.

Claremore, Okla., June 24.—John Crutchfield and James Price, members of a sheriff's posse in pursuit of a desperado near here, opened fire on each other, mistaking one another for the outlaw. Crutchfield is dying and Price is seriously wounded.

LITTLE PROGRESS IN MURDER CASE

Slayer of Elsie Sigel Not Yet Apprehended.

CHUNG SIN TALKS FREELY

But Chinese Prisoner Throws No New Light on the Tragedy—Information Obtained From Him Is All That the New York Police Have to Work on. Officials Refuse to Discuss the Crime.

New York, June 24.—After a day of conflicting statements, the district attorney's office, acting under instructions from Mr. Jerome, and the police department under orders from Commissioner Bingham, refused to discuss further what progress had been made in the search for Leon Ling, the Chinaman who is wanted for the murder of Elsie Sigel, whose body was found in a trunk in a room over an Eighth avenue chop suey restaurant last Friday night. Nor would they discuss the results of the examination of Chung Sin, Leon Ling's former roommate, who has been variously reported to have witnessed the crime, to have aided in roping the trunk and finally merely to have seen the girl's body. There have been hourly reports of clues from all parts of the country, but none of them, on close examination, brings the authorities any nearer to the murderer.

What progress has been made with Chung Sin, who underwent another four hours of cross-examination at the hands of Captain Carey and his men of the homicide bureau and Mr. Ward of the district attorney's office, is as much as anything to the offices of Quon Yick Nam, a Chinese merchant, who volunteered as an interpreter and in whom the police have every confidence. It is said that he told Chung Sin, with an earnestness that carried conviction that no Chinese society would aid him in suppressing the facts or in concealing Leon Ling; that, on the contrary, every Chinaman of influence and responsibility in the country felt that the case was bringing disrepute on their race and they all were united with the police in efforts to run down the murderer. With more to gain than to lose by the truth, Chung Sin then talked freely if not frankly, but that he has not been actually implicated in the crime itself, is indicated by the fact that he is still held in the house of detention for witnesses and not in the Tombs, charged with being an accessory in the murder.

All the Police Have to Go On.

Whatever be the whole truth concerning the information Chung Sin yields, it is practically all the police have to go on. Chu Gahn, the restaurant proprietor and admirer of the dead girl, of whom Leon Ling was jealous, is out on $1,000 bail, pumped dry; the other restaurant keeper, Sun Leung, and his waiters and cook, above whose place the body was found, also are out on bail for $100 and the lesser importance attached to their knowledge is measured by the small amount.

Thus the case revolves around Chung Sin, whose alleged confession, however, became far less sensational upon further investigation.

To all questions he reiterates that he occupied the room next to that of Leon and that on the afternoon of June 9, the day of the murder, he wakened after a natural sleep to find Leon standing beside him. Leon was in trouble and wanted help. Chung Sin soon understood why when he saw the body lying across the bed.

There was blood on the lips and a stained handkerchief was stuffed between the lips. The features, he said, were strained and blackened, but he saw no rope around the neck. Leon explained to him that the girl bit her tongue and bled to death.

Asked if that seemed plausible to him, Chung Sin admitted that he felt terrified and that his first impulse was to get out of the house as soon as he could. Before he left, however,

Leon borrowed $200 from him, he said. Then he had hurried to the rooms of his cousin, with the intention of passing the night, but his curiosity got the better of him and after two uneasy hours, he sneaked back to the house, climbed the stairs, lifted himself to where he could peer through the transom, and saw the room empty save for the trunk. That was enough for him. He hurried back to his cousin's room and slept there that night.

Neighbors entirely discredit Puryear's suspicions of infidelity of his wife and think he was mentally deranged.

Officers Make Fatal Mistake.

Claremore, Okla., June 24.—John Crutchfield and James Price, members of a sheriff's posse in pursuit of a desperado near here, opened fire on each other, mistaking one another for the outlaw. Crutchfield is dying and Price is seriously wounded.

HANDWRITING EXPERT DIES

Broughton Brandenburg's Star Witness Expires Suddenly.

New York, June 24.—Benjamin F. Kelly, a handwriting expert, on whom Broughton Brandenburg relied to rebut the testimony of David N. Carvalho that Brandenburg wrote the signature of Grover Cleveland which was attached to the article that was sold to the New York Times, died suddenly here. In the opinion of the ambulance surgeon, Kelly was a victim of acute indigestion, aggravated by the heat. He collapsed and expired on Broadway.

Boy Killed by the Police.

Chicago, June 24.—Rudolf Berndt, a fourteen-year-old boy, was killed by police here following an alleged attempt on his part to imitate Black Hand methods and secure money from S. E. Grossfeldt, wealthy grocer, by threatening letters. He was shot on a lonely street corner just after he had seized a package supposed to contain $15,000 from his victim.

INCIDENTS OF HER AUTOMOBILE TRIPS

Related by Witnesses for Mrs. Howard Gould.

New York, June 24.—Counsel for Katherine Clemmons Gould, who is suing Howard Gould for separation and $250,000 a year alimony, labored long and late and it was 11 o'clock at night when court adjourned. This, the first nocturnal session since the trial began more than three weeks ago, was held in order to clean up the remaining testimony in rebuttal by the plaintiff's witnesses, excepting perhaps Mrs. Gould herself, if she desires to testify. But after the night session, Clarence J. Shearn announced that he still had two witnesses to call. The case will go on and a deposition of Dustin Farnum, the actor, will be submitted in Mrs. Gould's behalf.

The testimony submitted and depositions read for Mrs. Gould, taken as a whole cover in rebuttal all the incidents of the various motor trips that she is alleged to have taken to cities in which Farnum was playing.

Also it sought to prove that Mrs. Gould drank moderately, principally with her meals, that her language was never other than what it should have been, that she saw Dustin Farnum only in the company of others and that there was nothing out of the ordinary in her attitude towards him. Mary Conlin, a maid to Mrs. Elijah Sells, Mrs. Gould's cousin by marriage, and one of her guests on the motor trip to Philadelphia, swore that none of the party ever wore dust coats. Witnesses for Mr. Gould had previously testified that a man's linen coat had been found in Mrs. Gould's room at the Bellevue Stratford.

ALL PLAYERS ARE ELIGIBLE

Open Championship Golf Tournament Begins.

Englewood, N. J., June 24.—Play was begun today at the Englewood Golf club in the open championship tournament of the United States Golf association. The list of entrants in the tournament embraces practically all of the well known professionals of the United States, with several amateurs of high class. Low scores for the course, which consists of seventy-two holes, are expected.

The professionals entered in the tournament include two foreigners—Tom Vardon of the Royal St. George's club of Sandwich, England, who is temporarily associated with the Wentworth club of Chicago, and George Duncan of the Hanger Hill Golf club of England, who is touring the United States.

Dozen Perish in a Fire.

Madrid, June 24.—At least a dozen lives were lost and fifty persons injured in a fire in a moving picture hall in Bellagur. The hall caught fire and a fearful panic ensued, men, women and children being trampled upon.

Minneapolis Boys Drowned.

Minneapolis, June 24.—Albert Larsen and Oscar Elde, two Minneapolis boys, fourteen years old, were drowned in the Mississippi river. Fritz Slidie, a companion, also had a narrow escape while attempting to rescue the two lads.

"Dearest Ethel," began the young man fervently, "you are different from any other girl I ever knew!"

"In what way?" asked his blushing bride to be.

"Why'er you see," he replied, rather at a loss how to proceed, "you accepted me."—Young's Magazine.

MAMMOTH MUSHROOM.

Weighed Over Thirty-three Pounds When It Reached Scales.

In a field six miles back of Pittsburgh, at Millvale, Pa., Dr. Allen J. Willets, professor of economy and English in the Carnegie Tech schools, recently discovered a mammoth mushroom. The mushroom, after some pieces had been broken off in getting it to the scales, weighed thirty-three and a half pounds. It measured thirty-two inches on the top and nine inches in thickness.

The Carnegie Institute, which at once took charge of the wonderful growth, declares that, while there is historical record of a mushroom weighing forty-five pounds having been found, it has reason for belief that the find of today is as large as if not larger than any other ever found. Detail as to the mushroom of history is lacking, and there are also lacking some parts of the Pittsburgh mushroom which were intact when found.

Dr. W. J. Holland of the institute, who raced by auto into the woods for the mushroom, when notified declared that it must have weighed over forty pounds when Dr. Willets came upon it.

The mushroom is what is known as the polyporus kind and cannot be cultivated at all, though it is of the edible variety. The mushroom appears to have grown so fast that blades of grass cut through it.

BJORNSON'S POPULARITY.

Remarkable Military Greeting For the Norwegian Novelist.

One day while in Norway an opportunity was given to L. P. Richards to verify the statement that the name of Bjornstjerne Bjornson, the Norwegian poet, means as much as the Norwegian flag. "A battalion of Norwegian and Swedish cavalry, infantry and artillery, between 3,000 and 4,000 strong, was returning from its maneuvers to the post in Christiania," he says. "In passing Aulestad the general in command sent his adjutant in advance to get Bjornson's permission to bring him an ovation. With his family and guests assembled about him on the veranda, the monumental figure stood with bared head to receive the military greeting.

"As each regiment passed in review below, presenting arms to their chieftain, there went up a deafening shout of personal salutation from each of the soldiers, who then joined in singing the national hymn, to whose author they were offering this spontaneous salute. There was the unique spectacle of a man in private life being accorded a military, spontaneous demonstration by the nation's army which a king might envy."

Milkweed and Ivy Poison.

A writer in "The Emergency Service" says: "Ragged milkweed will cure oak or ivy poison. This fact should be generally known by all who love to roam the woods. Being in the woods nearly all the time, I used to be bothered every summer, getting poisoned two or three times every season. I learned of the milkweed cure accidentally, as I would rub the itching places with all kinds of shrubs and weeds until one day I let the juice of a milkweed run on some of the ridges on my hands and noticed that it dried up the blisters and stopped all itching. Since then I have tried this remedy in many different cases and at all stages, and it has invariably cured every case. I have had to cure some people two or more times before they would believe in the milkweed, as they were using other things at the time the milkweed juice was applied."

APPRAISERS RESUME TAKING EVIDENCE

After Spending Wednesday Afternoon Making Personal Investigation of Plant

EXPERT TESTIMONY COMMENCED

Edward P. Burch, Consulting Engineer, Placed on the Stand by the City

After spending a half day in witnessing the working of the plant and making various tests of the water pressure the appraisers resumed the taking of testimony today. R. K. Whiteley was sworn and gave evidence as to the difference in level between the river and the pump house and the streets in the main part of the city. The height above the water was given as about 60 feet and above the pumps at about 50 feet.

Edward P. Burch, the consulting engineer employed by the city, was placed on the stand and was not through testifying when the appraisers adjourned at noon. Mr. Burch placed small value on the plant and all connected with it. He swore that the pumps were out of date and of a type which was not being installed at the present time. The filters he said cost $4,800 and were worth about $1,200. He had not at the time of adjournment at noon proceeded far enough with his testimony to show the entire value he placed on the plant. It was considered probable at noon that his evidence would require the entire day today and would occupy part of tomorrow.

AN EXPLANATION MADE

Regarding the Necessity of the Coming Financial Canvass for the Y. M. C. A.

Since it has been understood that there will be a Y. M. C. A. financial canvass the question has been frequently asked—"Does the Association not receive enough from memberships to support itself?" In reply to this, one officer of the association gave the Dispatch the following:

There is not an Association in the country that is run without support from some institution or from the citizens. It is a popular opinion, however, that it should care for itself, but the Association here gives the young man a privilege which could not be purchased for less than $15.00 to $25.00, and yet asks the young man but $5.00 for that privilege, and this low price must be maintained so that it is prohibitive to none.

To meet this deficiency in the Brainerd Association about $1,100 is necessary each year. The N. P. R. R. gives $500 of this amount, which leaves $600 to be raised by popular subscription.

It should be emphasized that this Association is run on a smaller amount of money for the work done than the average Association. During the last two years there was not a great effort made to cover this deficiency and the board are now putting it up to the citizens of Brainerd as to the manner in which it shall be conducted in the future, for, unless there is a hearty support the work cannot be continued which has been carried on so successfully for the last two years.

The board is meeting with some very gratifying successes as some of the business men of Brainerd, when thoroughly acquainted with the situation, have expressed themselves as unwilling to see the Association take a backward step, and are willing to do their full share in supporting it.

The canvass next Tuesday is to not alone raise money for the present expenses, but to raise as much as possible for the deficiency which has been incurred.

A complete statement will be rendered in a few days to all who may be interested.

Another hopeful aspect is the willingness of many professional and business men to give time to the proper carrying out of the canvass.

LABOR PARODY ON "AMERICA"

Sung at a Meeting to Discuss Means to Relieve the Unemployed.

A meeting of the unemployed was held the other day under the auspices of the International Brotherhood Welfare Association in a hall at 44 Bowery, New York, to discuss methods of providing work for the unemployed. Chairman J. Eads How announced at the beginning of the meeting that the proceedings would be started with a hymn. The "hymn" proved to be a paraphrase of "America," the first verse of which ran:

My country, what of thee?
What hast thou done for me?
That I may sing?
In labor's crowded mart,
Strong hand and willing heart,
Striving to my part,
To thee I sing.

Miss Lily Engleton, an eighteen-year-old anarchist, was one of the speakers. She said:

"The unemployed should be infused with the spirit of the French revolution. They should assert themselves, as the French people did, and make it understood that it is the duty of the government to put the unemployed to work."

HOT WAVE STILL PREVAILS

Many Deaths and Scores of Prostrations in Eastern Cities.

New York, June 24.—Despite the weather man's fine promises, New York remained all day and night in the grip of the heat wave which has prevailed for three days. The temperature registered at United States weather bureau headquarters was 89, with an oppressive humidity, which ran up to nearly 65. More than fifty prostrations and a half dozen deaths were reported.

Thousands slept at Coney Island, in the parks and on fire escapes.

Pittsburgh, June 24.—Two deaths in the tenement district were reported here, one an infant, due to excessive heat. Prostrations in steel and tube mills were reported hourly. The charity bureaus are overrun with applications for ice and milk from mothers with sick children.

Philadelphia, June 24.—Four deaths and more than a score of prostrations due to the extreme heat were reported here.

RICH GRADUATE IN CALICO.

Niece Inaugurated Wealthy Man's Campaign For Plain Gowns.

Miss Harriet Walker, a wealthy member of the younger set in Wellington, O., astounded her class the other night when she appeared for high school graduation in a calico gown. D. P. Wells, her wealthy uncle, does not believe in women wearing elaborate gowns, and more to satisfy him than to win the $50 which Mr. Wells gave his niece she, at his request, agreed to wear calico.

"My object," said Mr. Wells, "is to begin a campaign for more sensible gowns at commencement exercises. Too many poor people spend comparatively large sums on such gowns. If every one could afford it the custom would be all right."

"It requires great facility of language to enable a man to say exactly what he thinks," remarked the literary person.

"Yes," answered Mr. Meekton reflectively, "and in addition it often requires a great deal of courage."—Washington Star.

DISPOSED OF IN SHORT ORDER

Senate Acts Quickly on the Lumber Schedule.

AMENDMENTS ARE DEFEATED

Attempts of Senator McCumber of North Dakota to Reduce the Finance Committee's Rate End in Failure. Aldrich Forces Beaten in Fight Over Duty on Pineapples—Consideration of Coal Schedule Concluded.

Washington, June 24.—In unexpectedly short order the senate took up and disposed of the lumber schedule and then entering upon the discussion of pineapples, put behind the provision regulating the rates of duty on that article.

Calling up the tariff bill immediately after convening, Mr. Aldrich asked that the lumber schedule should receive first attention. He had no sooner taken his seat than Senator McCumber, who, in the interest of the treeless Northwest has been a persistent advocate of free lumber, arose and presented an amendment reducing the finance committee's rate of $1.50 per thousand on sawed lumber to the house rate of $1 per thousand. This was generally recognized as a test proposition, as sawed lumber has been the bone of contention from the beginning. The North Dakota senator did not find it worth while to enter into any argument in support of his provision, but permitted it to go directly to a vote.

The result was against him and was another triumph for the Aldrich rates, the vote standing 24 in favor of and 44 against the reduced rate. Party lines were completely obliterated on this vote.

Another test came on the proposition to make a rate of $1.25 per thousand on lumber with a general change in the differentials, and on this vote the finance committee was also liberally supported.

The entire wood schedule, making reductions of about 25 per cent from the present law rates, and increasing the house rates of the pending bill to about the same extent, was then agreed to.

The sailing was not so smooth when it came to pineapples. The contention was for higher rates, and came from Democratic sources. The objectors in this case were Senators Tallaferro and Fletcher of Florida.

The house had fixed a duty of 8 cents per cubic foot on pineapples in barrels and $8 per thousand, but the senate committee on finance reduced this rate to 7 cents and $7, respectively, thus restoring the provision of the Dingley law.

Amendment Is Adopted.

Mr. Tallaferro presented an amendment restoring the house rate of $8 per thousand, but changing the other portions of the provision so as to require the payment of half a cent a pound for pineapples in bulk. The contention was for and against this increase, and the fight was mainly between the Florida senators, representing a pineapple producing state, and Senators Smith and Rayner of Maryland, in whose state there are large pineapple canning establishments.

After a debate extending over about four hours' time, the Tallaferro amendment was adopted, 34 to 30. This was a defeat for the finance committee, but the amendment was not strenuously resisted by the committee and several of its members voted for it.

Rather unexpectedly to itself the senate concluded its consideration of the coal schedule.

The finance committee, through Mr. Aldrich, reported an amendment fixing the duty on bituminous coal and shale at 60 cents per ton; on coal slack or culm at 15 cents per ton; coke and compositions used for fuel at 20 per cent ad valorem. A drawback equal to the duty is allowed vessels in the foreign trade.

This scale, Mr. Aldrich explained, was a reduction of 7 cents a ton on coal under the house rate. The amendment, he said, also left out the house reciprocity provision. He did not believe, however, that the house would remove its duty on coal, even if the reciprocity provision were left in the bill.

Senator McCumber, declaring that he was in favor of free coal, offered an amendment reducing the rate of duty reported by the committee on finance to 40 cents a ton. The amendment was voted down, 28 to 44, whereupon the committee's amendment was accepted without change and without division.

An amendment by Mr. McCumber reinstating the house reciprocity clause in the committee amendment was defeated under a division, 24 to 47, while a free coal amendment by Senator Crawford was rejected on a viva voce vote.

WINS GUGGENHEIM TROPHY

Ford Car No. 2 Victor in Transcontinental Auto Race.

Seattle, Wash., June 24.—Amid the cheers of 15,000 people who blocked the streets around the main entrance to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, Ford car No. 2, driven by W. B. Scott, in the transcontinental automobile race, crossed the tape at 12:55:35 o'clock, winning the Guggenheim trophy cup and $2,000 purse. The car had been out from New York 22 days, 55 minutes.

The car was seriously delayed during the last 100 miles of the race by the deep snow in the Snoqualmie pass through the Cascade mountains. Because of a rumor that a protest would be filed against Ford car No. 2 because it was reported to have dropped a man and picked him up afterward, the award was not made.

The Shawmut car, which entered the Cascade mountains eight hours behind Ford car No. 2, is expected to win the second prize of $1,500.

The Italia car abandoned the contest at Cheyenne.

THOUSANDS IN ATTENDANCE

German Gymnastic Societies Gather at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, June 24.—More than 3,000 gymnasts and athletes, representing every section of the United States and several European countries, are assembled in this city today to take part in the thirteenth quadrennial meeting of the turnvereins, or German gymnastic societies, of America.

The monster athletic field at Carthage, in which the contests are to be held, is the biggest in the United States. The stage measures 260 by 40 feet and the grand stand alone seats 4,000 persons. On the field are the tents in which many of the visiting gymnasts are housed during their stay in this city.

Some of the tents are army tents which have been lent to the gymnasts by the national government largely through the efforts of Congressman Nicholas Longworth of this city, who has taken much interest in the turnfest.

He is one of the invited guests of the leaders of the fest, with President Taft and many others.
